CONDENSED EGGS.

THIS NEW ARTICLE, recently placed upon the Market, consists simply of fresh-laid HENS' EGGS, from which most of the water has been evaporated, and being hermetically sealed, remains perfectly sound.

The EGGS thus condensed are obtained in the Empire of China, and canned in the immediate vicinity in which they are produced, thereby avoiding the deterioration to which EGGS are subjected when transported in the shell. So that, in point of fact, the CONDENSED EGGS preserved under the patent of A. B. DAVIS, furnish to the consumer, EGGS possessing more perfectly the properties of fresh-laid EGGS than those ordinarily supplied to any city. The CONDENSED EGGS will beat up into light froth as readily as EGGS taken immediately from the shell, and are equally valuable in making Cakes, Custards, Creams, Pastry, Puddings, Egg-Nog, &c., &c.

ECONOMY.

For Hotels, and Restaurants, or for Families, or Vessels at sea, this Article is invaluable, as there is no loss from breakage or decay, and a tin will keep for any length of time after opening, being sealed only for transportation.

One Table-spoonful is equal to one Egg. Add equal amount of water (warm is preferable); dissolve it well; then use same as any Egg.

THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 3, 1877.

THERE have lately appeared from the pen of "A British Merchant at Canton" two lengthy articles respecting British shipping interests in China. One appeared some time ago in the North China Herald, and the other, entitled "The Treaty of the Coast Trade Duties levied by the Chinese Government on British and Foreign Shipping," we have just received in pamphlet form. In the first article, the author demonstrates the importance of the subject by a few statistics respecting the employment of British shipping along the Chinese Coast. British shipping was represented in China in 1875 by an aggregate of 3,663,461 tons measurement entered and cleared for intermediate voyages between the fourteen river and sea-board ports, exclusive of the tonnage under the British flag employed in the direct trade between Great Britain and China, and without computing those vessels that trade between Hongkong and the ports on the coast of China, which, together, form a still greater total than the quantity of tonnage first mentioned. The aggregate foreign tonnage employed in the China coasting trade in 1875 was 6,900,247 tons, so it will be seen from the foregoing figures that the British flag covered 53 per cent. of this large amount of shipping. It may also be noted that the total value of the merchandise carried in this trade during the year was £35,750,000, and the computed share of this amount borne on British vessels not less than £17,000,000. At the present moment, says the author, the subject is still more deserving of special attention, owing to the indirect endeavours which are now being made by the Chinese Government to frustrate the privileges granted to British shipping in the Treaty of Tientsin by the establishment of a fleet of mercantile steamers, misnamed "The China Merchants' Steamer Company," for the avowed purpose of undertaking the carrying trade of both foreign and native merchandise to and from every river and coast port of China that are open to foreign commerce, at such low rates and under such official pressure as shall make the employment of any other nation's coasting vessels so unprofitable to their owners, as shall force them to abandon this branch of local enterprise. That there may be no doubt as to the Chinese Government holding these intentions, the author appends extracts from the published reports of the "China Merchants' Steamer Company," among them the following:—"The C.M.S.N. Co. was established in virtue of a memorial to the Throne by Li Hung-chang, to the effect that the Company should purchase steamers for the conveyance of Government grain, and the monopoly of mercantile transport. The scheme, excellent and far-seeing as it is, is one of great importance to the Government and people.
During the winter of the 11th year (1874), Chu Yuen-fen, by rank a Total, was appointed manager of the Company. In the 8th moon of the 12th year (1875), the undermentioned were deputed to undertake the reorganization of the working of the Company. Entrusted with the command of thehigh officials, we have been most vigilant and active in endeavoring to carry out and adhere to the fixed regulations."The Chinese Government in order to carry out its purposes now professes, says the author, that British vessels have no right by treaty to the coasting trade, and that, should they be indirectly excluded from it by the opposition of the Government mercantile steamer fleet, instead of by a direct refusal to acknowledge any such right as emanating from the treaty, no just remonstrance from the British Government would be thereby possible against the measures now in progress of adoption for that end. Consequently it becomes necessary to establish beyond doubt, the treaty right of British and other foreign vessels to participate in the riverine and coasting trade of China.The author then proceeds to point out that by the European and American Treaties concluded with the Chinese Government at Tientsin in 1858 the privilege of trading in Chinese products between the different ports of the Chinese coast was accorded to foreign vessels on the mere payment of tonnage dues not exceeding four mace per ton in every four months (see Articles XI and XXIX of British Treaty); and, moreover, that should such vessels be solely employed for the conveyance of passengers, baggage, letters, articles of provision, or other articles not subject to duty, between any of the open ports, they should be even exempt from such payment, and so be admitted to the entire coasting trade of China, on her rivers and seaboard, wherever trade was to be established, free from all taxation whatever. (See Article XXXI of British Treaty). Following up the same subject, the author, in his pamphlet, proceeds to demonstrate the illegality, under the Treaties, of the Coast trade duties levied by the Chinese Government on foreign shipping. It is, he says, "astonishing to find that, notwithstanding these clear and summary Treaty stipulations, there should be levied in addition to the above-mentioned dues on vessels engaged in the coasting trade of China, another serious tax in the shape of a coast trade duty, which, though nominally charged on the cargoes of native produce carried by foreign vessels, is substantially an equivalent impost indirectly burdening the shipping employed on the Chinese coast, and amounting in the year 1875 to the sum of 1,104,448.00, or more than tenfold the amount of the total tonnage dues (110,403.00) collected under the Treaties from the foreign coasting traders; so that instead of the legitimate duty of four mace per ton for every four months, which was settled by Treaty, an actual amount of four taels and four mace per ton for every four months is now levied by the Chinese Government on all foreign shipping trading on its coast, making an annual taxation of thirteen taels and two mace per ton, or nearly the equivalent of one-fifth of the entire cost of every vessel sent out to China from Europe and America for the coasting trade, which is thus absorbed for the benefit of the Manchu reigning dynasty of China without its having any general Treaty right to do so."What makes this affair still more astonishing, is that in nearly all the Treaties between those Western nations it is expressly stipulated, even when the coasting trade has been thrown open to foreigners, that no tonnage dues or other dues under whatever denomination, shall be levied on native vessels engaged in the same trade, so that the Chinese Government has been treated with in an exceptionally favourable manner by these Western nations in this respect, by even allowing it to levy differential tonnage dues on their ships, in opposition to their own generally received customs as observed by Western nations amongst themselves; and still more so by allowing it to impose a coasting trade duty in addition to the duties already levied in excess of international usage on this point. It is not too much to assert, that no one of the Western nations before mentioned would submit to such a crushing additional taxation on their shipping as above-mentioned, if it were sought to be imposed on any one of them by the others as the condition of their being admitted to the liberty of the coasting trade.The author then proceeds at great length to show how it was that so grave a tax on foreign shipping, for which there is no foundation in the Treaties, was ever allowed by the British Government in the first instance, and afterwards by the other Treaty powers blindly following suit. The records of the transaction offer no satisfactory explanation for this restriction on the freedom of the coasting trade being introduced, nor is there any evidence to show that it was admitted through some adequate compensation in the shape of increased trading privileges being granted to foreigners by way of exchange over and above what they had secured by Treaty. By referring, however, at length to the antecedent circumstances of the transaction, namely to the events of the year 1858, and those immediately after the signing of the Tientsin Treaty, the author succeeds in showing how this systematic encroachment on the Treaty privileges of foreigners was brought about.

REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.

THE WAR.

LONDON, 1st October, 1877.

There are signs of an early and severe winter in European Turkey; two inches of snow has already fallen in the Schipka Pass.It is believed that the campaign in Bulgaria is virtually ended, and that the Russians will remain during the winter, strongly entrenched in the positions they actually occupy at present.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

In the Police Court to-day, two of the cases against George Hamilton, an engineer, for obtaining goods under false pretences, were committed for trial. The charge preferred by Mr. Koss was further remanded for the evidence of the Captain of the Amoy, while that of Mr. Driscoll was abandoned, as the goods were never delivered.We hear that, not only was Capt. Brown, of the steamer Totsai, fined $268 at Macao for posting bills in the Holy City, but that he was arrested and placed in prison for non-payment of the fine (subsequently reduced to $120). It has been stated that Mr. Brown was taken from on board his steamer, by the authorities; but we fancy there must have been some mistake regarding this part of the story.In the hurriedly-written paragraph of last night regarding the scratch four-oared race, our Reporter fell into an error, which appears to have arisen from the very short distance by which the Victoria (Walker's crew) headed the Sylph (Schultz's crew).
The Victoria was, according to the decision of the Judge (Mr. Emory), about three feet in advance of the Sylph, when she passed the imaginary line between the Bath-house and the buoy; and as no one could possibly occupy the exact position necessary to enable him to arrive at a just decision except the Judge himself, it is not a desirable thing to question the decision arrived at. In a multitude of circumstances on such an occasion, each unit being placed at a different angle from his neighbour, there is no great amount of wisdom to be obtained. It is unfortunate that the Judge appointed for any particular race is prevented from attending, but the fact of a substitute taking the place on a pinch does not justify any doubt being thrown on his capacity to act rightly and fairly.

SUPREME COURT.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

(Before His Honor Mr. Justice SNOWDEN.) 3rd Oct., 1877.Vogel, Hagedorn & Co. v. Siemssen & Co., $1,000.—This was a claim for damages for alleged breach of contract.The Hon. the Attorney General, Mr. G.
Phillippo, instructed by Messrs Sharp, Toller and Johnson, appeared for the plaintiffs, andMr. Haylar, Q.C., instructed by Mr.
Brazerton, for the defendants.The following special jury of three was empanelled:—Messrs G. B. Emory, J. G. T.
Hassell, and R. Lyall.The facts of the case were these: The plaintiffs had a vessel named the Hannah Law on the berth here in June for New York, and the defendants, who had some sugar to ship to New York, instructed Mr.
Steel, a ship-broker, to make arrangements with the plaintiffs to ship 250 tons of sugar which the defendants had on hand then, and some 400 or 500 tons more to come.
According to the plaintiffs' version the 250 tons were accepted on condition of the defendants promising to ship the 250 tons in the Hannah Law, with 500 tons in a following vessel, which turned out afterwards to be the Matchless, chartered by the plaintiffs.
The defendants on the other hand contended that there was no definite undertaking to ship any fixed quantity beyond the 250 tons, because they did not know what quantity might be coming forward from Hoihow.
The plaintiffs alleged that in consequence of shipping this 250 tons, that a quantity of cargo of their own had to be shut out from the Hannah Law, which induced them to charter the Matchless. After waiting a long time, 61 tons more were shipped, and as the despatch of the Matchless could not be delayed, the future shipment of the sugar was transferred to the Johanna. No further shipment of sugar, however, was made, so that the plaintiffs had to sell the vessel with light cargo at 27/8 per ton or 30/ per ton.
The claim was therefore for the difference in the rate of £2.10 and £1.10 for 339 tons which the defendant failed to ship with the plaintiffs. The amount was $1,099.78, but it was reduced to $1,000 in order to bring the case within the jurisdiction of this Court.Mr. Richard Steel, ship-broker, was first called in in the early part of June, I got some instructions from Messrs Siemssen & Co., from Mr. Hoppius. He asked me to look out for a vessel for New York to carry 600 to 800 tons sugar. I offered two or three ships then, and Mr. Hoppius said he could not say anything positive, but that he would tell me. I then suggested that he should make arrangements with Messrs Vogel, Hagedorn, who had then a vessel on the berth for New York. Mr. Hoppius said he could not make any arrangement, but he thought it might do. I then went

THE CHINA REVIEW.

THE widely-expressed regret at the discontinuation of Notes & Queries on China and Japan, has induced the publishers of this journal to issue a publication similar in object and style, but slightly modified in certain details.

THE CHINA REVIEW, or Notes and Queries on the Far East, is issued at intervals of two months, each number containing about 60 octavo pages, occasionally illustrated with lithographs, photographs, woodcuts, &c., should the papers published demand, and the circulation justify, such extra matter.

The subscription is fixed at $5.50 postage paid, per annum, payable by remittance in Hongkong half-yearly in advance.

The publication includes papers original and selected upon the Arts and Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Manners and Customs, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, the Eastern Archipelago and the "Far East" generally. A more detailed list of subjects upon which contributions are especially invited is incorporated with each number.
Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, French, German, Spanish, Italian or Portuguese, are admissible. Endeavors are made to present a resume in each number of the contents of the most recent works bearing on Chinese matters. Great attention is also paid to the Review department.

Notes and Replies are classified together as "Notes" (head references being given, when furnished, to previous Notes or Queries), as are also those queries which, though asking for information, furnish new or unpublished details concerning the matter in hand. It is desirable to make the Queries proper, brief and as much to the point as possible.

The China Review for July and August, 1875, is at hand. It says that for the best essays were sent in to compete for the best paper on the advantages of Christianity for the development of a State. All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising Review. It is a sixty pages, bi-monthly, repository of what scholars are ascertaining about China. The lecture on Chinese Poetry in this volume is alone worth the price of the Review. Address China Review, Hongkong—Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.).

Zimmer's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review:—"This is the title of a publication, the first number of which has lately reached us from Hongkong, where it has been set on foot as in some respects a continuation of Notes and Queries on China and Japan, the extinction of which useful serial a year or two ago has been much regretted in Europe as well as in China. The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors. In a paper on Dr. Legge's Shi King, by the Rev. E. J. Eitel, to which the place of honour is deservedly given, an excellent summary is presented of the chronological problems and arguments involved in connexion with this important work. Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese post-statestman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that "Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance. The publication is intended to appear every two months, and will form a substantial octavo magazine.

THE CHINESE MAIL.

This paper is now issued every day. The subscription is fixed at Four Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Seven Dollars Fifty Cents including postage to Coast ports.

It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under purely native direction. The editorial department is conducted by Mr. Chun Aye, whose experience and competence have already been most fully demonstrated. The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing.

The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan,— from Australia, California, Singapore, Penang, Saigon, and other places frequented by the Chinese,—consider themselves justified in guaranteeing a minute circulation of between 3,000 and 4,000 copies. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore mutually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of them.

The field open to a paper of this description—conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstructive in tone—is almost limitless. It on the one hand commands Chinese belief and interest while on the other deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners.
Like English journals it contains Editorials, with Local Shipping and Commercial News and Advertisements.

Subscription orders for either of the

THE widely-expressed regret at the dis-
continuation of Notes & Queries on China and Japan, has induced the publishers of this journal to issue a publication
modified in certain details.

Queries on the Far East, is issued at in-
taining about 60 octavo pages, occasionally
illustrated with lithographs, photographs,
extra matter.

paid, per annum, payable by non-residents in Hongkong half-yearly in advance.

The publication includes papers original
and selected upon the Arts and Sciences,
Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Manners and Customs, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, the Eastern Archipelago and the "Far East"
invited is incorporated with each number.
Original contributions in Chinese, Latin,
tuguese, are admissible. Endeavours are made to present a resume in each number of the contents of the most recent
works bearing on Chinese matters. Great

Notes and Replies are classified to-
or Queries), as are also those queries which,
Queries proper as brief and as much to the point as possible.

The China Review for July and August, 1875, is at hand. It says that forty-two
and entertaining Review. It is a sixty page, bi-monthly, repository of what scholars are ascertaining about China. The
lecture on Chinese Poetry in this volume is
alone worth the price of the Review. Ad-
Christian Advocate (U.S.).

Trübner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review:—"This
of which has lately reached us from Hong-
kong, where it has been set on foot as in
some respects a continuation of *Notes and
been much regretted in Europe as well as
Calcutta Review. The great degree of at-
upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of pub-
of the foreign consular service, the Chinese Customs, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now sadly wanting, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly
a paper on Dr. Legge's Shi King, by the Rev. E. J. Eitel, to which the place of
are marked by both accuracy and freshness
the Chinese post-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra,
distinguished by its literary grace. Beside
notices of new books relating to China and
the Review, if carried out with punctuality
and detail, we are glad to notice that
find a place in its pages also. It is to be
on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar
displayed during the lifetime of its prede-
form a substantial octavo magazine.

day. The subscription is fixed at Four
cluding postage to Coast ports.

issued under purely native direction. The
editorial department is conducted by Mr. Chin Ayn, whose experience and competence have already been most fully
legal footing.

the various Ports in China and Japan,
from Australia, California, Singapore,
justified in guaranteeing an ultimate
copies. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find
them.

The field open to a paper of this descrip-
progressive and unobstructive in tone—is almost limitless. It on the one hand
while on the other it deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners.
Like English journals it contains Editorials,
News and Advertisements.
